TWENTY-ONE CARS OF FREIGHT WERE UNLOADED ON WEDNESDAY

Impending Embargo Averted by Business Men Co-operating With R. R. Force

SITUATION IS WELL IN HAND

Twenty-one cars of local freight were unloaded in the Charleroi yards on Wednesday by the combined efforts of the railroad forces and a number of business men of the community. It was anticipated that more would have been unloaded, but the fact that a holiday came on Thursday made it impossible for a number of business houses and particularly groveries to lend the aid they desired, b ecause of the demands made upon them by their trade. However, the results accomplished were most satisfactory and the Board of Trade considers that it was successful in every way.

Had it been possible to have unloaded seven more cars on Wednesday it would have brought the work up to date, but conditions were such that it was impossible to acomplish this result, and as a consequence with theseven cars over and the four additional which were received on Thursday the force had eleven cars this morning to unload. However, Mr. Tussing believes the situation w ell in hand with excellent prospects of getting everything up to date in a very few days. If necessary business men will give such help in order to accomplish t his result, and thus make local freight conditions better than they have been for months.

Had it not been for the help of the merchants on Wednesday it is likely there would have been an embargo on Charleroi shipments, which would have been keenly felt. It was pointed out by Mr. Tussing that an embargo would have practically lasted about nine weeks, taking into consideration the unloading of freight as well as getting new shipments started from mill and factory Of course foodstuffs would have come in, but the dry goods, the hardware, the clothing, the shoe and other merchants would have been hard hit, but they would have had no remedy except to have had shipments made by trolley freight, by express or by trucking it from Pittsburg. It was the fear of an embargo which would have been disastrous to Charleroi in many ways, that caused the business men to offer their services as well as their trucks, in order to avert such acondition. In this they have succeeded, for which they are certainly entitled to the thanks of the community.

ST. JEROME AUXILIARY ACTIVE WITH KNITTING

St. Jeromes Red Cross Knitting Auxiliary met Wednesday evening with Mrs. William High at the Elks club. The knitting was done on the veranda which was delightfully pleasant. The attendance was large, a number of new members being admitted. The following finished work was turned in: 7 sweaters, 12 pairs of socks, 1 pair wristlets and 1 convalescent quilt. The next meeting will be held next Thursday evening at the same place.

STATE OFFICERS WERE AT THE MEETING

The meeting of the Tri-County Funeral Directors' Association, held at the Crowley undertaking rooms Tuesday afternoon, was honored by the presence of M. W. Coulter of Homestead, President of the State Funeral Directors' Association and also a member of the State Board of Undertakers, Wm. Dowler of Braddock, vice president and Scott Newcomer, secretary. The meeting was representative one. The next meeting will be held in Claysville in September.

MEMORIAL DAY IS OBSERVED HERE

Memorial Day was observed in Charleroi for the first time on Thursday a number of citizens and organizations taking part, in connection with the veterans of thecivil war, through whose instrumentality the exercises were held.

The first event of the day, after the parade, which formed promptly at the appointed time under direction of Capt. John K. H ein, Chief Marshal and moved over a prescribed route, was the dedication of theHonor Roll Tablets at thecorner of McKean avenue and Fifth streets. Rev. C. A. Hartung was master of ceremonies and the speaker for the occasion was Thomas P. Sloan, of North Charleroi who made a splendid patriotic address and referred particularly to the young men whose names appear on the roll and who are now serving with the colors. After these ceremonies the organizations went to The Pines, where Memorial Services for the veterans of '61 were held under direction of Jacob Wise, Commander, assisted by members of the Veteran Guard. This ceremony followed closely the ritual of the Grand Army of the Republic, Jacob Wise d elivering an address and Miss Ruth Swickey delievering a patriotic address.

Rev. John R. Burson and Rev. T. D. Rees also spoke, their themes being of a patriotic nature and were intently listened to. Rev. C. G. Huffer made the prayer and Rev. C. P. Bastian pronounced the benediction.

The organization taking part in the services of the day were the veterans of former wars, the Home Defense Police, the Boy Scouts, the school children. who sang patriotic songs under direction of Prof. Daniel, as well as a large number of citizens.

Next year it is anticipated that Memorial Day will have a deeper significance to Charleroi and more elaborate preparations will be made for its observance.

DONORA CELEBRATES MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day was observed in an appropriate manner by Donora on Thursday, a parade of veterans, Home Defense Police and faternal organizations marching to Gilmore cemetery, where the ritual of the Sons of Veterans was observed. From there the parade moved to the river bridge where services for the sailors were held. after which the marchers and citizens went to Donora park, where the address of the day was delivered by Congressman Fess. of Ohio.

Needs of the Red Cross

THE EMERGENCY FLEET

A Charleroi Four-Minute speaker in one of the local theatres Tuesday evening gave utterance to his patriotic feelings and appealed to all young men to enter the army of the United States, if they were physically fit for service.

The address was made in connection with the theme fixed by the publicity bureau for Four Minute Men, which is "Dangers to America." He had spoken on various phases of the subject, touching on the needs of the Red Cross and ending with a reference to the "Emergency Fleet."

This is a term that is just becoming known to our people, and its workings has caused considerable comment, some of it not of a very favorable character. The "Emergency Fleet" asignment refers particularly to shipbuilders and those who work on material in connection with government enterprises. Of course there are thousands of men in the Emergncy Fleet contingent who are beyond the draft age, and whose skill is being utilized by the government in the construction of ships for the American merchant marine. Likewise, there are a number of men who are in the draft age, and who have been examined and accepted for service, who have been transferred from the selective list to the "Emergency Fleet" contingent by direction of the government and on orders issued from the central offices in Philadelphia. In this district alone out of the 169 called for service on Tuesday, there were 21 exemptions because of this feature.

In referring to this feature the speaker an question appealed to the young men of the community not to hide behind the "skirts of their mothers." Of course it is hard thing for a mother to give up a boy to enter the service of his country but there are hundreds of thousands of mothers in America who have given one and many of them more sons to the service, and whose hearts are bleeding for these self same boys, but who face the future hopefully, knowing that while the boy is in danger, he is being well cared for. she is likewise hoping for his safe return home, as all others naturally do but, said the speaker, think of the conditions these men who have accepted some minor employment when the boys come back hom. Then it will be that they must accept the severest test than can come to them,when their young men acquaintances, knowing they were of draft age, but were permitted to remain at home in good positions, making big money, while the other boys went out to fight the battles of their country and

Memorial Day Was Celebrated at Speers

Speers borough celebrated Memorial day with a flag raising and a patriotic meeting, in which all of the citizens of the community took part. The principal feature was a flag raising, which took place at 6 o'clock in the evening, the proposed parade having been called off on account of the rain. The flag was purchased by the members of the Junior Red Cross, and under whose directions it was raised at the appointed time, the pole being the gift of the Rainbow Division.

The young ladies formed a chorus choir for the time being and as they sang the "Star Spangled Banner" the mothers of soldiers now in service slowly raised the flag to its place at full mast. Miss Myrtle Beazell was Mistress of Ceremonies and presented the flag to the community, while Wilbur Steel presented the veterans of other wars and their widows with a flag. Miss Ruth Walters presented to each of the mothers whose sons are now in the service a service flag, after which S. D. Hill of Charleroi, was introduced and made a stirring patriotic address. Rev. Bland closed the meeting with a few remarks, after which adjournment was taken to the church, where Rev. Hartung was the speaker of the evening.

In this connection a report is made by the chairman of the publicity committee of theRed Cross Auxiliary of Speers and Twilight, which shows that it was organized January 19 last; thatthe sewing room was donated rent free by Van Speers; a stove donated by George Bradley, the P. R. R. at Speers; [illegible] coal, were donated by the Pennsylvania Railroad; the use of one plot of ground for a war garden donated by Van Speers; the proceeds from a social held by the young ladies were used in fitting up the sewing room; the money realized from a social held by the Betsy Ross Junior Girls was used in purchasing the town flag and hospital pillows; the proceeds of a social held by the Boys' Lincoln Club was used in purchasing a sewing machine and a sewing machine was also donated by Miss Melissa Ward; $1.45 was donated for garden seed.

The work room of the Auxiliary turned in the following completed articles: 86 hospital shirts, 19 pairs pajamas, 12 undershirts, 36 underdrawers, 76 French pillow cases, 38 pillow cases, 68 towels, 120 hospital bed socks, 14 pillows, one ambulance robe, 4 convalescent robes, 20 hot water bottle covers, 31 sweaters, 6 helmets, 12 scarfs, 10 pairs wristlets, 19 pairs socks, 9 wash rags, 1130 surgical dressings.

The Junior boys are taking care of the war garden, while the young ladies of the Rainbow Division purchased the town flag pole.

The four divisions of the Auxiliary each of which is pledged to give $25 to the Charleroi war chest, had booths erected on the streets of the town on Thursday, all of them being decorated in the national colors with Red Cross emblems. The returns were very satisfactory the ladies expecting to clear over $50 as a result of their day's activities.

FOREIGN BORN CITIZEN SHOWS PATRIOTISM IN PRACTICAL WAY

Makes Splendid Present To Red Cross and invests money in Liberty Bonds

GOVERNMENT A BENEFICIARY

If there is a more patriotic citizen in the country than Joe Cancilla, a resident of Charleroi and now at Camp Humphreys, Accotink, Va., he would be hard to find.

Joe formerly conducted a shoe repair shop on Fallowfield avenue, where he had built up a prosperous business. He was called in the draft and was in the contingent which left Donora Tuesday evening on the way to the cantonment in Virginia for training. Before leaving home he sold his business as well as his automobile and other possessions, converting them all into cash.

Then in order to show his appreciation for the Red Cross he went to the Singer Sewing Machine agency and purchased one of the finest sewing machines made by the company, and had it sent to the workrooms of the Charleroi Chapter of the Red Cross, in the Elks building, as a present with his compliments and well wishes. Then he went to a local bank and put the balance of his mone into Liberty Bonds. Finally he mad his will, leaving these bonds to his mother, providing, however, tha should his mother die while he is in the army and should Cancilla himself loose his life on the battlefield or should die of wounds, the bonds would revert to the United States government.

Thus preparing f or his material possessions, Joe packed up his little kit bag on Tuesday and went to Donora, where he was sworn into the service of the United States, to be made a soldier and to offer his life if necessary in the cause of not only his adopted but his native country as well.

Every one hearing of the patriotic attitude of Joe Cancilloa can but applaud at the same time contrasting this action on the part of a man born in a foreign country with some native born, but who reveres his adopted country so much that he is not only willing to give his life for it, but all his wealth as well, should his family not live to enjoy it.

However. indignation was expressed by many citizens when it became known that Cancilla was compelled to pay rent by a local real estate agent for an additional month before his lease was cancelled.

DONORA SALOONS WERE CLOSED FOR AFTERNOON

A feature of the departure of the draftees of the Fifth District from Donora Tuesday afternoon, was the fact that all of the saloons were closed from 1 o'clock until after the departure of the men at 5:30 p. m. This some action was taken when the previous contingent d eparted from Donora.

GOOD PROGRESS BY WAR CHEST

A meeting of the War Chest executive committee was held at the Bank of Charleroi Tuesday evening, at which time representatives were present from all the local districts. A number of new names were added, and the workers reported very satisfactory progress. However. all solicitors were requested to put a little more energy into their work, that the districts may be covered promptly and final returns made as soon as possible.

PEREGRINE FAMILY MOVES TO PITTSBURG

He has been made general manager for the company, which has plants in Marion and Elwood, Indiana, Toledo, Ohio, and in Charleroi. He is succeeded at the local plant by W. S. James. who has been with the Macbeth company for twelve years, and who for the past eight years was associated with Mr. Peregrine in the management of the local plant. Mr. James will be assisted by L. P. Flickinger, former superintendent of the shipping department.

PROMINENT DONORA WOMAN IS DEAD

Mrs. E. D. Morse, of Donora, died Thursday at 1:40 p. m. in St. Joseph's hospital. Pittsburg. after a brief illness. She was also active in club circles as well as in the church work of St. Charles congregation. Funeral services will be held Sunday.

BUT ONE THING TO DO

The Irish Nationalists reported to be on their way to Washington to put their cause before our government should be made to understand that at such a time as this we can not interest ourselves in the I quarrel with the British government, if indeed we should c oncern ourselves officially at at any time whatsoever. At present it is sufficient for us to know that our secret service has uncovered e vidence of plotting between German and Irish agents in this country for an uprising in Ireland and that this evidence handed to the British government, is partly responsible for recent arrests of Sinn Fein leaders. As in the former plot in which Sir Roger Casement figured, the Germans were to supply money and arms, and it appears that in this second instance it was even proposed to send German soldiers to lead the war upon England on Irish soil. The uprising was planned for about the present time by which the Germans hoped to have seized the Channel ports and to have thrown England in confusion as a result of their great drive begun on March 21.

Knowing all this, there is but one thing for all patriotic Americans to do. Whatever the merits of the Irish q uestion per so, or our personal attitude in the connection, we can do no less than take England's side pending the duration of this great war. In our own interests we can not afford by word or act to embarrass our greatest ally while she is threatened at her very back door, so to speak by Germans and Sinn Fein Irishmen acting together with a view to do her deadly hurt. England and all the allies banded together to save the world from the intolerable fate with which for four years it has been threatened.

ITALY

May 24 was thethird anniversary of Italy's entrance into the war and, at President Wilson's request, it was widely celebrated by a display of Italian flags on private and public buildings in honor of our "valiant and great-hearted comrade in arms." All this is as it should be. Italy has not only performed great service for the common c ause in recent times but in the past his suffered more and longer than any of her allies from Teutonic aggression. Italy, the oldest of the present allies, has been engaged in resisting the invasions of the "northern barbarians" chiefly of Germany from time to time for upwards of two thousand years.

A single German emperor of the middle ages led no less than six predatory expeditions into Italy and many others, before and after him, not only turned longing eyes toward the fair land of thesouth but followed their lust of conquest far into that inviting country of alluring beauty, climatic charm and actual or fabled treasure. Varying fortunes attended these great raids to obtain territory and loot, but on the whole they were unsuccessful because of the valor of the intended victim—so much so, in fact, that Italy was at last spoken of as "the graveyard of German emperors." Manifestly the Teutonic aggressor, armed now with both science and savagery, is a greater menace than ever. After ages of valiant struggle to be free and possess her own, tareatened by the same old foe, our ally, Italy, is worthy of our deep sympathy and great consideration.

The two commercial classes concerned are more than inclined to dispute the claim that the way to win the war is to wear old clothes and patched shoes.

The blood of both America and France were in gallant Raoul Lufbery and he served both with complete devotion until the day of his glorious death.

The advocates of German-language newspapers in America would be sadder as well as wiser men if they could test their views through an experiment in English-language newspapers in Germany.

Saint George in Bad Light.

According to Gibbon, St. George owes his position in the Christian calendar to his deeds of his own. Born in a fuller's shop in Epiphania, Cilicia, George contrived to ingratiate himself with those above him by servilely flattering them, and so gradually rose from his original obscurity. Gibbon says that as he twice contract for supplying the army with bacon, proved a fraud, and grew rich; but that the ways of wealth, but that the ways of [illegible] were compelled to fly the country.

Securing Happiness.

It's easy enough to lose happiness. Take away our liberty and we begin to think of his rights. But the final theft rests with the man himself. Scripture says: "There is that withholdeth more than is meet and it tendeth to poverty." The same principle rules in the quest of happiness. Joy is the reward of doing the happy thing rather than the hoarding of a word of encouragement. Use your powers for their intended purpose and see what the result will be.

Will Strangely Found.

Stranger than fiction is the story told in London of how a missing will was discovered. In one house there was an old bureau which had been handed down as an heirloom for nearly a century. In an air raid this was split down the center, and a secret cabinet revealed. There were found a number of papers, and among them a will which will have an important effect upon the present holders of the property.

Making Her Useful.

When Earl went to his aunt's home for dinner and they were seated at the table, Earl begged to say grace to his aunt, who had a headache. He kept nudging her all the time, and finally she said: "Don't do that, auntie has a headache, and everything is going round and round." The youngster said: "Well, auntie, when that dish of potatoes comes around to you, please hand it to me."

Looking Ahead.

Perhaps the time will come when man will invent some great storage battery which shall collect all the free lightning now so erratically loosed from the summer clouds and save enough light and heat to serve a whole town during the cold, dark winter. Then the sting of fear would be removed from the great dragons that devastate and they would be tamed for man's use!

Wrong Action Mitigated.

Laddie had been taught that when visiting he must never ask for anything to eat. One afternoon he was invited by a neighbor to visit her. He went alone, and on his return home his mother asked him if he had enjoyed the afternoon and said she hoped he had not asked for cookies. He replied: "Yes, I did, mamma, but I was werry polite."

Hunting Trouble.

Hunting trouble is too fashionable in this world. Contentment and jollity are not cultivated as they should be. There are too many prematurely wrinkled, long and melancholy faces among us. There is too much swearing, sweating and slashing, fuming, foaming and fretting around and about us all.—Artemus Ward.

Valuable Tropical Wood.

Balsa wood is exceedingly light, and promises to have an extended field of usefulness in connection with cold storage structures when heat insulation is important. It is a tropical wood, growing principally in the states of South and Central America.

Carried on the ribbon of a new book mark is a celluloid panel through openings in which appear various references that can be altered by moving pointers, with which the device is equipped.

Rain Tree.

Ranging from Mexico down to Brazil and Peru is a tropical, acacialike tree, Pithecolobium saman, known as the rain tree. Its foliage and fruits are sweet and much sought for by stock.

How It Goes.

There are some things that just can't be done until the man comes along who just does them anyhow—and then most anybody can do them.

Mule Got Away With Pies.

Horray, youngsters! Tomorrow is to be circus day in Charleroi!

Think of it! One whole glorious day of tigers, giraffees, elephants, clowns, spotted ponies and everything. Yes, siree—these and goodness knows how many train-loads of other wonders will all be in town early tomorrow morning coming here over the Pennsylvania railroad from McKeesport where the circus is exhibiting today.

The first section to arrive will be the "flying squadron" carrying the commissary department and all the animals except the elephants, camels and zebras. The last three trains will bring the tents, properties, costumes, workingmen, hundreds of performers and executive staff to town. Not counting the elephants these cargos are not likely to interest the youngsters to any great extent. Instead, they will be following the mysterious cages marked: "Wild Animals, Don't Touch" on their way to the circus ground and by the time the parade gets ready to start will know most of the occupants by their first names.

There will be a downtown seat sale at Piper's drug store throughout circus day where tickets can be purchased at the same price charged at the show grounds.

HEAVY RAIN FALL WEDNESDAY EVENING

The eastern section of Washington county was visited by a heavy rain Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock and creeks and runs for a time were swollen o ver bank full. Gardens in some places were washed badly, but it is not believed any permanent damage was done.

Consecration Restrictions.

The Nazarite, during the term of his consecration, was bound to abstain from every production of the vine and from every kind of intoxicating drink. He was forbidden to cut the hair of his head or to approach any dead body, even that of his nearest relation. —Numbers 6:1-21.

Cuckoo Superstition.

In some parts of England, when the first note of the cuckoo is heard in the woods, every village girl asks the question, "Cuckoo! Cuckoo! When shall I be married?" The bird, in answer, is supposed to sound as many notes as years will elapse before the happy event takes place.

Why Cat's Eyes Shine in Dark.

This entirely new endorsement was given to Ravenna's Nerv-Worth druggist a short time ago. It is a strong proof of the claim that Nerv-Worth is wonderfully prompt in getting results. Said Mrs. Elgin:

Nerv-Worth Co.—I suffered a great deal from stomach trouble, dizziness, and could not sleep at nights. I had no appetite and was simply all run down. I have only taken one bottle of Nerv-Worth and the results are wonderful. I can eat anything and feel fine at all times. I cheerfully recommend Nerv-Worth to anyone suffering from stomach trouble.

A SUCCESSFUL REMEDY

All things succeed which really deserve to—which fill a real need, which prove their worth. The fact that the famous old root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has for three generations been relieving women of this country from the worst forms of female ills and has won such a strong place in our American homes proves its merit beyond the question of a doubt. It will well pay any woman who is in need of such a medicine to try it.

to stake all that the principles for which we are fighting may triumph.

The speaker appealed that these young men should enter the service, and not suffer the opprobrious epithet of "slacker," which will be applied to them, at home and elsewhere, unless they don the khaki and do a man's part in this great war The speaker was loudly applauded for the sentiments he expressed, showing that the sympathy of the audience was with him, and that they agreed with him in his vigorous denunciation of what appears to be a system whereby men of eligibility can "get by" without entering service, but are taken care of in good jobs for the duration of the war.

The sentiment of the people as shown by its approval of what the speaker said, is practically solid behind the government. This is found in the attitude of the people toward the various activities. Appeals for subscriptions to the Red Cross and other features are being made in the most liberal manner and as shown by the large oversubscription to the Red Cross fund, are ready and willing to assume the burden and contribute the money necessary to carry on all of these features so essential to the comfort and welfare of the soldiers.

In Charleroi we are promoting the war chest. Get behind it. Make your subscription as liberal as possible and if you cannot go to war, send your dollars to represent you. This can be done through the war chest.

HER PRAYER WAS ANSWERED

Little Girl's Appeal for Automobile Ride Proved That Her Argument Was a Good One.

The six-year-old daughter of an attorney has been taught from infancy to have implicit faith in prayer. So strongly has this been impressed on her mind that practically all of her desires and childish wishes sooner or later find expression in prayerful appeal.

The child is a motor enthusiast, and on the first warm day after the severe winter weather she asked her father to take her out for a ride. He explained that their machine was put away for the winter, and that it could not be used at that time. The child then sought her mother and asked her to pray for somebody to come around and take them out for a ride. The mother tried to explain that such a prayer would be unavailing, but, undaunted in her firm belief, the child went to her room and prayed that she might have an auto ride. An hour or so passed, and the little girl waited expectantly and anxiously for the automobile to arrive.

Seeking to allay the child's disappointment the mother started to explain more fully, when the shriek of an automobile horn was heard outside. The child rushed to the door, and to the amazement of the mother, a neighbor asked the girl whether she desired to take a ride.

"Will you have room for mother, too?" the girl asked.

"No, we just have room for one little girl," replied the man at the wheel.

The child hurriedly put on her coat and cap, and as she left the doorway she turned to her mother and said:

"See, mother, if you had prayed with me you could have gone, too."

The mother is still wondering.

Outside of Man's Rights.

The "mental neutrality" which is born of ignorance or lassitude is unworthy of reasoning beings. We have no intellectual right to be ignorant when information lies at our hand, and we have no spiritual right to be weary when great moral issues are at stake.—Agnes Repplier.

The Japanese gardens were first started in miniature landscapes in temple gardens by Buddhist priests, so that dwarfing of trees and shrubs became a necessity, copying the true landscape and giving the impression a real one conveys.

AMERICANS HAVE STRONG NERVES

Nervousness and Nerve Troubles on the Decline

"Nothing wrong but your nerves" is a saying thatisfast lying out in this country. While nerve trouble is nc organic disease one of our leading nerve specialists remarked: "A man or woman might better break a leg t han have ashattered nervous system."

Overwork and worry drains the nerve cells of their reserve strength and food and then follows the sleepless night, indigestion, poor appetite, impure blood and general nervous breakdown.

The thing to do in such cases no longer troubles doctors and their patients who know from their own sxperience t he value of Phosphated Iron. They know that a few weeks' regular use of this nerve food and red blood builder will strengthen and brace up the whole nervous system because Phosphated Iron gives the tired, hungry, wornout nerve cells phosphates and iron in a form easily and quickly absorbed; as one happy user said: "You can almost feel it taking hold of the nerves and blood, after a short time you feel like a new person; life seems a pleasure and worth living once again."

In every section where Phosphated Iron has been used there h as been a big decrease of nerve troubles and it will prove a welcome relief to any sufferer. You can bank on it for results—it's pure.

To insure physicians and their patients g etting the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put up in capsules only, do not take pills or tablets. Insist on capsules. W. F. Hennings end leading druggists everywhere.

CITY POLICEMAN GAVE EXPERIENCE

Tanlac Gave Officer Yost Additional Weight and Renewed His Strength

"Yes, sir, I gained five pounds during the first week I took Tanlac," said Jesse Yost, the well-known City patrolman of 5231 Addisan street, West Philadedphia, recently.

"I had suffered from a sour disordered stomach," continued Officer Yost, "and no matter what I took I could not get any better.

"My digestion was very bad and I got so I could scarcely eat at all. The gas on my stomach and headaches bothered me no little.

"I was also badly constipated and I felt languid and kind of tired out. My old-time energy was disappearing and I could hardly pull myself through some days.

"I saw this Tanlac highly praised in te hpapers. I read where Parolman Frank Herman had been benefitted. I decided that I wanted to try Tanlac, but before I got the medicine I talked with a doctor about it. The doctor said it was all right to try it. I began using Tanlac. When the doctor weighed me he was surprised to discover that I had gained five pounds in weight on the first bottle of Tanlac.

"My stomach is now in good shape and I feel fine. I am rapidly gaining back the strength and weight I lost."

Tanlac, is now sold here by Pipers Pharmacy.

Keep Mind on Work.

One must make up one's mind to forego the casual word which leads to idle conversation, the most deadly of time destroyers. One must fix the mind on the work in hand, seek to forget that there is anyone else in the world, or any other task that must be done. And only practice can make this possible. But, once gained, concentration will be found to be the most valuable asset that any young woman can possibly bring to any kind of work to which she sets her hand and mind.

Deposit of Mineral Salts.

Experts employed in the department of hydrogenic studies of Mexico have reported that after careful investigation of the lands reclaimed by the drainage of Lake Texcoco, in the vicinity of Mexico City, there have been rendered available some 30,000,000 of tons of mineral salts, including common salt, caustic soda, bicarbonate of soda, etc., for all of which there is a large demand in the republic in various industries.

Of Interest to Dickensians.

Dickensians will be interested to hear that in the house in Easy Row, Birmingham, which is the one described in "Pickwick Papers" as having belonged to Mr. Winkle, Sr., an interesting discovery in the course of renovation has just been made. On the removal of the wallpaper in a room in the top story the whole of the walls was found to be enriched by the old-time stencil plate, which preceded the days of wallpaper.—London Chronicle.

Sword Reverenced in the East.

In the East superstitious reverence is still paid to the sword. The daimios of Japan, when they voluntarily surrender their rank, kept, as a rule, the wonderful blades which had been handed down from generation to generation, in some cases for more than 1,000 years, and which had absorbed, as they believed, some of the character and life of the men that had owned them.

Jupiter and Saturn.

The four largest satellites of Jupiter may be seen easily through any small pocket telescope at the time when they are not in front or behind the planet. A somewhat larger telescope—with an object glass of from two to three inches in diameter, is needed for a satisfactory view of Saturn's rings. Much depends on their position in regard to the observer.

Saint Anastasie.

Anastasie, who is popular in France, as a saint, is commemorated on April 15. She was the daughter of a pagan senator and a Christian mother. She was exiled under Diocletian for having refused to sacrifice to the heathen gods. Brought back to Rome she was buried alive in 304.

Missouri's Place in History.

It is said that Washington supplied his Continentals partly with lead from the early French mines in southeast Missouri. If this fact could be established then Missourians could proudly boast that their state had taken part in all the wars which have engaged our country from the very beginning.

Not Too Close.

Marjorie and her mother went shopping. In a store the proprietor's dog, who likes children, came over and stood beside her. She told him to get away, but he only moved closer. The clerk asked her if she didn't like dogs, and she said, "I like dogs all right, but I likes 'em 'cross the street."

Truly Useful Tree.

In Australia cattle and sheep are fond of grazing on the foliage of the weeping she-oak or beef-wood, Casaurina qudrivalvis, and some farmers grow it for that purpose. It thrives in California on poor sandy soil and is a decidedly ornamental tree.

Tact.

Boiler Corrosion.

As a preventive of boiler corrosion potassium bichromate is quite effective, provided the feed water is free from salt. If, however, a small quantity of the latter be present, free hydrochloric acid is generated.

Up-to-Date Shoe.

Although it looks from the outside like any other shoe, one invented in England has a separate compartment for the big toe.

A Little Knowledge.

"A person should tell all he knows." "I'm not sure," replied Miss Cayenne, "that with a first-class system of censorship it makes much difference."

Reality of Age.

Age is not all decay: it is the ripening, the swelling of the fresh life within that withers and bursts the husk.—George McDonald.

Optimistic Thought.

Republics are created by the virtue, public spirit and intelligence of the citizens.

Australian Slang.

The term, a "bosker time," which the Australians use to describe a cheerful leave home to their birthplace, is the altered "Bosky" with a similar meaning that was an English colloquialism in the eighteenth century. And "Bosky" is still current slang in England, but implying a too generous use of the wine cup. There is one phrase in the book of slang which is decidedly pleasing "Australian grip." It stands for the best of greetings, the honest, hearty handshake.

Has Long Been With Us.

The term "highbrow," used by the frivolous to describe serious minded, is not, as you imagine, a recent importation from America. It is to be found in the pages of a volume published in Edinburgh in 1720, entitled "The Rules of Good Deportment." One of the profound utterances of the author of this work runs as follows: "A high brow or proud behavior, whether in gesture or speech, is insupportable clownishness."

Powerful Pump.

Your heart is a very busy organ. While you breathe once it beats four times. At each beat it sends four pounds of blood through your veins and arteries. The weight of the circulating blood is 29 pounds. When you run your legs and the other parts of your body need more blood, so your heart must pump faster.—Popular Science Monthly.
